“ Education must not simply teach work.
It must teach life.”

INTRODUCTION

Greetings dear Team,

It brings us great joy and gratitude to see a vision that was born over 8 years ago finally coming to completion.

Through this we clearly see the faithfulness of God and His mighty hand through the years.

We are glad to share with you the official name of the institution which is “Fursa Training Institute”. Fursa is a Swahili word that means “opportunity.”

This best describes our desire which is to give an opportunity for computer training for young people in our region.

We are extremely excited and we know that you are too. Please see the progress so far in the following pages.

P.s We took in some of our young people to help in some works and labor.

“God will always finish what He started.”
Philipper 1:6

i. Tiling and Paint Works

Purchase, laying and fitting of floor tiles and painting was successfully done in all classrooms and the corridor.

ii. White Boards.

Classroom whiteboards were purchased, delivered and installed successfully.

iii. Internet Connectivity

Unfortunately, Safaricom (The top service provider in Kenya) is yet to reach our region meaning we had to source for a different provider. We managed to find a provider even though we have to use a point-to-point antenna, dig a channel (all done by some of our youth members) and pull a cat6 ethernet cable into the building. We now have running internet in the building.

PHASE 5

Phase 5 which is the final phase before we officially begin our classes involves the following:

1. Purchase of furniture i.e Table and chairs.
2. Purchase of learning equipment i.e. Computers, networking equipment, a projector and accessories.
3. Registration fees.

The below pictures give an impression of our desired table and seats.

“Asante sana
Rafiki.
Wewe ni wa
Baraka”

CONCLUSION

The above statement is a Swahili sentence that means “Thank you very much dear Friend, you are a great blessing to us.”

That is our truth today as we look back from when we began. Thank you for your unrelenting support, may God bless you abundantly.

We are now looking forward to phase five, which is the final phase in building and materials after which we can officially begin our classes.

With Love,
Martin and Jesse.
